DESIGNED FOR Life

NEUTRAL OF THE YEAR

This year, we've changed things up a bit and introduced a Neutral of the Year into the Forecast. It's our pick for the colour that best captures the essence of the year's trends and is really easy for anyone to use.

Every year we put together the Plascon Colour Forecast to help people decode the world of colour trends and make them relevant to their lives. Currently we're seeing that our world is in flux, and this means that our trends are all about bringing different design, cultural and lifestyle influences together in unexpected combinations. So in this Forecast we hope that you find inspiration first and foremost, but also a resonance in your own life. Colour is more than what's on the surface. It affects our mood and shapes our world, and this Forecast is our snapshot of where we are right now.
